COVID-19 and Vessels

The UK Government and the Association of Port Health Authorities have issued guidance that it is no longer a routine requirement for vessels (other than cruise ships), arriving in the Port of London District from outside UK waters, to submit a Maritime Declaration of Health (MDH).

Vessel operators and pilots are advised to continue to exercise vigilance by following well established precautionary measures which help to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Standing Requirement under International Convention

A ship's Master, arriving in the London Port Health Authority district must notify the London Port Health Authority (LPHA) of any suspected infectious disease or death on board his vessel other than by an accident.
